Domestic Violence Response Training

DV-alert

Domestic and family violence Response Training (DV-alert) is a free national training program designed for health, allied health and community frontline workers.

As a nationally recognised training program, DV-alert workshops and E-learning streams are mapped out against the unit of competency CHCDFV001: Recognise and Respond Appropriately to Domestic and Family Violence.

Participants who successfully complete the training and assessment will receive a statement of attainment. Find out more about the benefits at dvalert.org.au

Lifeline Adelaide is offering DV-alert's two day workshop

Working with Women with Disabilities

This course is tailored for workers in the health, allied health and community services, who may work with and provide support to women with disabilities.

During the two-day practical workshop, you'll learn how to:

- Recognise the signs of domestic and family violence,
- Respond to someone subjected to domestic and family violence, and
- Refer using best practice to ensure the most appropriate support is provided.
